We have no change whatever to note it the condition of the local money market, continue to work quiet and casy. The localing demand is not pressing, and princommercial paper meets with prempt meson modations at the banks and in the outsi market at from 9 to 12 per cent, intere Eastern money markets are thaily becomin more and more dethorle.

Money if 2 to 3 per cent, at the same in ment that the stock market is dull and more lenders uneasy, are, says the New Yo abunded burvest. This state of things is al-ready having a salutury effect in bringing down the price of breadstuds, and is impart-ing to business a looperfilmess which, In-great intensive, dispers like despondency oc-casioned by the protracted hortness that has been a distinguishing feature of the general markets. With large crops the country may impe for business prosperly in spite of politi-cal complications, and, with the restoration of the supremacy of civil law in the South, the country would at once enter upon a cur-rent of advancement hitherto unknown in its history.

the country would at once enter upon a current of advancement hitherto unknown in its history.

The provision market continues to exhibit weakness, and the consumptive demand is not up to the expeciation of dealers, and we note slight concessions jorday in bacou short ders. In other respects the market is unchanged.

The grocery market is very steady, with a fair foldbing demand. Bagging and rope is thru, with a slight advance on some brainls, but transcations are unimportant, it being too early for a consumptive demand, though some impulries are being made.
